Robotics Industry Veteran, Cathy Parker, Joins RE2, Inc. as Senior Manager of Business Development

Pittsburgh, PA, December 21, 2011 – RE2, Inc. announced today that seasoned robotics industry expert and respected member of the EOD/IED community, Cathy Parker, recently joined the Company as a Senior Manager, Business Development. In this role, Parker will identify, qualify, and capture new business while managing existing business relationships.

“Ms. Parker is a highly respected member of the robotics industry with more than fifteen years of experience developing and fostering new business. She has extensive connections with government agencies, domestic bomb squads, and industry experts, which has enabled her to hit the ground running,” stated Reeg Allen, Director of Business Development for RE2, Inc. “We are extremely fortunate to have a professional of her caliber join our team.”

Prior to joining RE2, Parker held senior positions with several high profile technology based companies such as Allen-Vanguard, iRobot Corporation, and Applied Research Associates.

“RE2 continues to grow despite the current economic conditions,” stated Jorgen Pedersen, president and CEO of RE2. “By bringing on Ms. Parker to develop new business, I expect that RE2 will remain on a growth path and solidify its position as a robotics industry leader.”
